

Fuddruckers

Nashville, Tennessee

This was one of several Fuddruckers locations built by Carden Company in Nashville, as well as Knoxville, Tennessee.

Fuddruckers is known for their fresh meat and buns, so a large walk-in coolers and on-site bread operations were special features for these restaurant projects. The building itself was a loadbearing 16-gauge metal stud structure with a open bar joist roof frame.