

Concord Corner Market

Brentwood, Tennessee

When the original landmark store was swept away with the widening of Concord Road, the community felt the loss of the highly convenient, multi-function mini-mart and gas station.

The wait for the replacement building was well worth it. The color scheme and brick detail make this neat little store fit right into its well-kept suburban neighborhood. And the handy stop for the morning coffee and paper is as quick and convenient as ever.