

Stan McNabb Chevrolet Dealership

Tullahoma, Tennessee

After almost 40 years in the same building, the Stan McNabb Chevrolet Dealership was looking a little worn-out and dated. The owners decided it was time for a major renovation, but they couldn't afford to close down the business during the process - and they needed it to be complete in time for some special Chevrolet promotions just 5 1/2 months away.

Fortunately, Carden Company has a lot of experience with their kind of project. The service area stayed open even during floor and lighting installation by strategically moving equipment around the space; the vital power supply and the computer system were not disrupted; and the staff and customers were kept safely out of the work zones.

And the answer for the time element was pre-engineered components produced by Butler Manufacturing, allowing us to provide a high-quality structure, designed to the owner's specifications, in far less time than conventional construction.

"They accomplished a lot in a short amount of time. I'd say if we ever have another project, we'd definitely want to talk to them about it." - Owner Trent McNabb

Link to case study.

