

Rollins Maintenance Facility

La Vergne, Tennessee

When this trucking company decided to build a new maintenance facility, they chose Carden Company to help them meet their needs. Requiring large open spaces and high bays for their truck repairs, the project made a good candidate for the specialized pre-engineered products designed by Butler Manufacturing for industrial spaces.

Outside the building, the Carden team also managed the installation of fuel service islands.