

St Paul Community Church

Nashville, Tennessee

Once barely visible from Hillsboro Road, St. Paul Community Church went through a major renovation project that has gotten them noticed - even won them a Metro Beautification Award from the Nashville Chamber of Commerce.

This project included the complete renovation of the existing space, the addition of much needed classrooms, and site work utilizing the cutting-edge engineering of concealed retention. As with other projects at St. Paul, special consideration also had to be made to plan, organize and conduct safe construction at an operating school.

“Carden’s attention to detail and their people skills caused the project to go smoothly. We would definitely use Carden again as a contractor.” - Danny Wamble, owner representative.
